Grandview

Lori- Hey there Cutie!! You're so crazy- I swear you can make me laugh any time. This year was great and the next couple of years will be even better! Hope to see ya over the Summer
Love ya.
Jen B ☺

Lori,
you are very ugly & we didn't have any fun this year! JUST KIDDING! It's the exact opposite! You are so cute and you have enough sweetness in you for the whole world! We've had some great times this year (for. with many more to come! Our friendship means a lot to me! Maybe next year we can take Math together, & another class. I hope!
Jerk.

Kind of confusing

I ♥ U!

You are sooo! Cute. I am really glad I got to know you better. You are good at so many things.

Lori- Baby!, I'm so sorry to use Mr. Steak as an excuse to get out of class again but I needed to do homework & I'm behind in Spanish & I'm not doing well in it. But this is the last time I'll use it as an excuse for the rest of the year. I'm sorry I'm such a bad friend. Have fun in Spanish class for the rest of the year. Maybe you can have a party for the last day of school. I'll miss you. Have a great summer & I'll see you next year. Be sure to write me & call me

Pages class ~ it was LAS & LAD!! 400 bet cha-!k!! believe me - these next 2 years will be so fun!!
much fun!! and it's all because of YOU - yes YOU!!

LORI STAVES

What a sweetie!!

The face coz i want to see a lot's!!
have a great coz!!
I love ya!
Lori D.
(DAD)

Lori, you big queer!
you've been so fun
being a buddy with you this year. you're crazy! and that's why
I love ya - so if you change, you're gonna die,
and guess who'd the murderer is?!?! Hopefully we can do stuff this summer!
Friends
forever,
Carrie
XOX

Lori - you "dancer" you!!
Can't wait for the recital this weekend - do that THING-well!
you SPAZ!! I never thought you were such a crazy girl until I got to know you -- but, now I know
I know you better!! And, I hope you have a Great Summer (of course you will)! Lori Staves not have fun!!
NO way -- see you then,
we'll have to get together
I'll always "Melinda" you.

Oh dear Lord
Thank you for bringing Jesus into our lives and for saving us from our sins. Thank you for loving us even when we don't deserve it.
Amen

Have a nice Summer, see you at the BEACH!! Good luck a lot & forever
Joanne

branching out ~

the greatest thing in the world is not so much where we are standing, but the direction in which we are moving ~ up the ladder from freshmen to seniors

Tami Allen and Amy Adamson study diligently during freshman study hall.

Carla Reed, senior, looks for college information.

Another beginning

As the four seasons cycled through the year, Valley students started branching out into another beginning.

For the new students entering Valley, it was a time filled with anxiety of what to expect from new classes, new teachers, new friends; the excitement of beginning a new part of their lives.

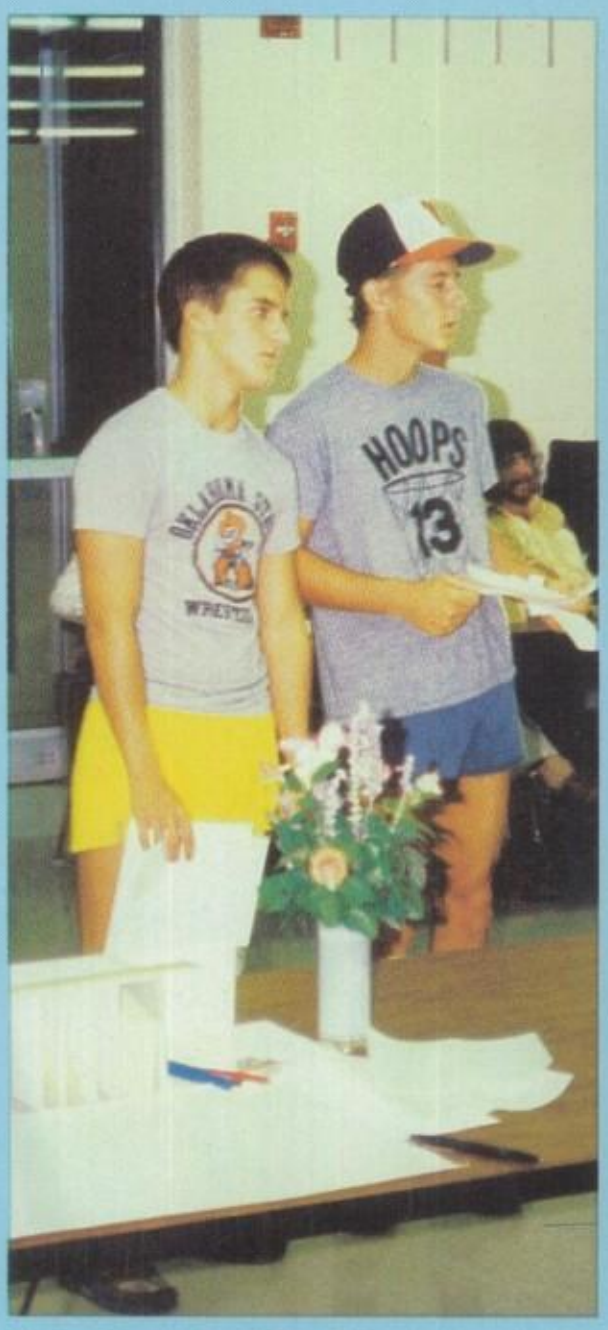
For returning students, it was a time of being reunited with friends missed during the summer; of apprehension when realizing it is one year closer to graduation, and maybe even drudgery as the carefree days of summer gave way to nights of studying and writing papers.

Self-scheduling began August 23rd for junior and senior classes and continued to the 24th for freshmen and sophomores. Self-scheduling provided the students with the choice of teachers, class times and courses. Over 1,900 students participated in self-scheduling this year. Declining enrollment was not a problem for Valley as the number of students only decreased by nine, according to Dr. Robert C. Brooks, principal.

A variety of new and old programs were available to help Valley students. The counseling department once again sponsored COPES for students in need of assistance with a divorce situation at home. A Peer Helper program, a study group and another group for students having difficulty coping with a death in the family were also formed.

This year many fine programs and classes helped Valley students branch out in their education.

Michelle Nordstrum picks up self-scheduling materials in the counseling office.



Nathan Courtney and David Creighton ponder over which teachers they should take.

Jeff Heggen and Jason Hoffman have a discussion on what class to schedule next.

Scheuermann crowned

The excitement of Homecoming peaked on Oct. 7th when Stephanie Scheuermann was crowned queen and Valley tromped over East, 10-0.

A factor in Scheuermann's victory was her speech about the letter O given on Oct. 6th at the pep rally and bon-fire. The speech related how the little O's in a box of Cheerios are like the individual students at Valley. Scheuermann related how each little O struggles to get to the top of the box just as the freshmen strive to become seniors.

"I was eating a bowl of Cheerios one night, frustrated from trying to think of what to write my speech on—when, I noticed what I was eating," said Scheuermann.

Another cause for celebration occurred when Valley proved to be victorious over East. This game was a defensive battle which included: Courtney Lawyer, Mike Judge, Jeff Hammre and Matt Elgin as key players on the defensive team.

Key players on the offensive team were: Todd Buchanan, Jay Hatch, David Creighton and Grant Goodman.

Summer

As summer arrives, the seniors' high school years come to an end. Summers are filled with memories of the past along with aspirations of what is to come. Seniors will soon be planning their future with expectations of achieving their long awaited dreams.

Summer fun~

Students branched out in a variety of some usual and unusual activities during the summer.

Those staying home went swimming at Clearwater Beach, boating at Saylorville, bike riding and going to concerts.

However, a few students participated in some unusual activites over the summer. The German Club went on a trip to Europe which included Germany, Austria and Switzerland. The tour of the countries lasted about a month.

"One thing that we did that was really neat was the boat ride down the Rhine River. There were castles all along the edge of the river," said Kristi Baker.

The trip to Germany highlighted an unusual summer experience for the 15 Valley students and sponsor, Anna Marasco.

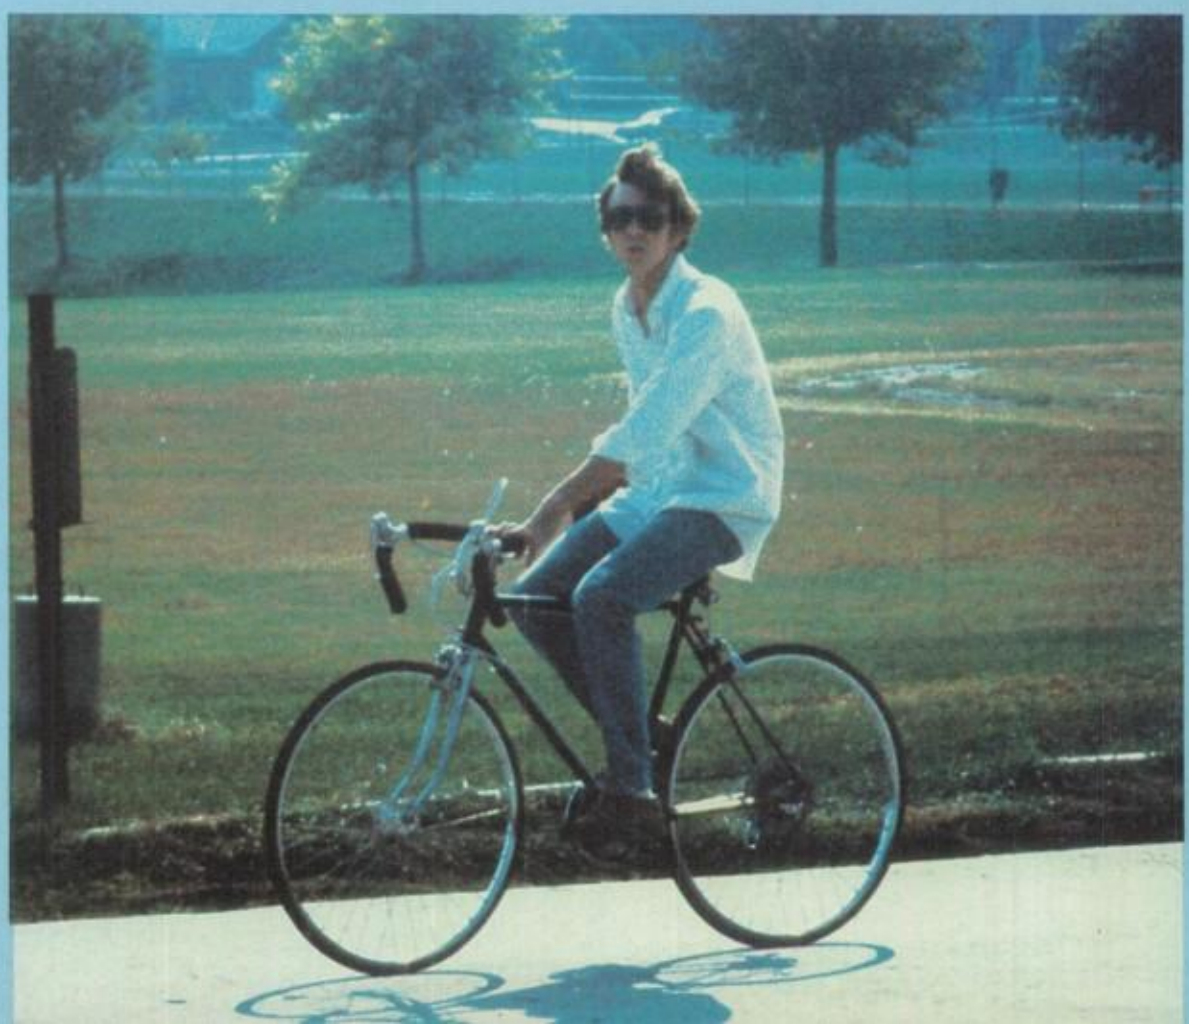
Phil Leister rides his bike not only for enjoyment, but for transportation.

Frau Marasco models an old style of German dress.

Katie Oxley displays Spaghetti Eis which is ice cream made to look like spaghetti.



Rising two stories into the air was the double ferris wheel at the 1983 Iowa State Fair.

BYOB: Bring Your Own Bailyn

Brett Halley, Eric Judge and John Erickson study together for their APP exam.

APP History students often found the need to study outside of the usual classroom setting.

Students in this sometimes frustrating, but very educational class, would study by drilling each other in the tedious task of learning American History in depth. A meeting place was usually designated and a time scheduled by one of the students. The APP "Parties" helped many in gaining knowledge, but of course, it depended on how much an individual studied.

One APP History book by Bailyn contained over 1,000 pages. Students were required to read 95% of just that book. The reading and vocabulary presented a challenge to many and an APP History student could be seen with Bailyn in one hand and a dictionary in the other.

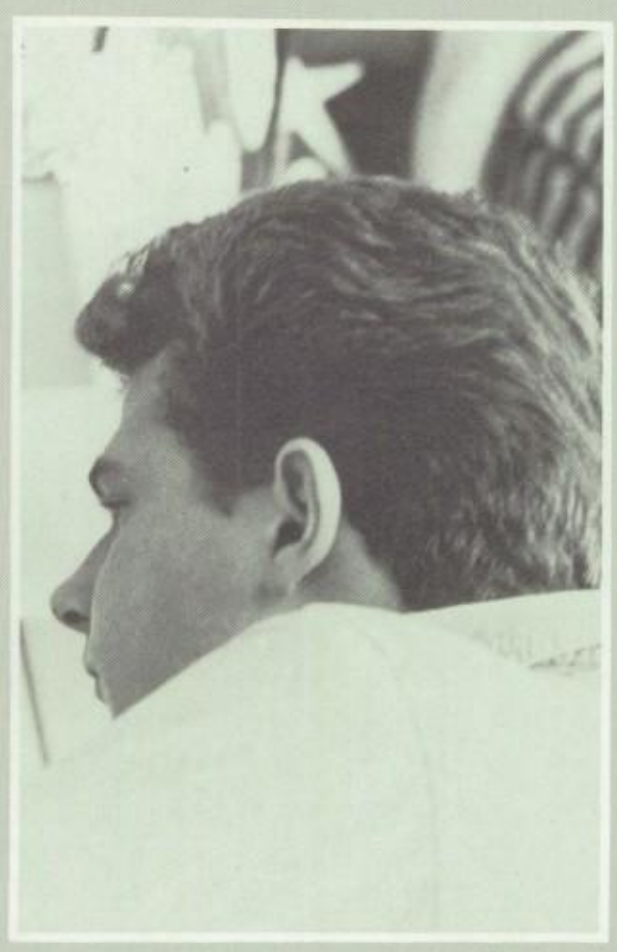
New Valley Tradition: Spirit Cookies

Mark Mahedy, Craig Brooks and Lewis Bissett work tediously frosting the cookies.



Eric Ledoigt carefully decorates the football shaped cookies.

Home economics classes decided to add a new homecoming activity this year by selling spirit cookies.

Football shaped cookies were designed by students and contained various messages which ranged from, "Beat East" to "Crunch Bunch."

Certain students sent personalized messages to friends which made it, "Really fun," said Mary Hollis as she indulged in her third cookie.

Over 400 requests were received for the 500 plus spirit cookies which were made during a five day process of baking, decorating and wrapping.

Senior Jay Nakashima added, "The new tradition was extremely successful for its initial year and it was a fun class project."

Robyn Ralles, A Devoted, Talented Skater

Robyn Ralles is a talented, devoted roller skater who started skating when she was nine years old. The owner of Skate West saw her skate and told her she had talent and potential.

Robyn usually practiced three nights a week after work at J-4 Rollaway, a small rink in Ames. In preperation for the regional and national meets in August, Robyn practiced six days a week, four hours a day.

Robyn is in artistic skating. She skates in different events such as figures, freestyle, dance and free dance with her partner, Mike Christiansen.

Robyn has received many trophies for her talent and travels all over the midwest area. In state meets she has placed first 18 times and in the regional meet during the past four years, she has placed second twice and third twice.

Robyn chose skating because it is a sport that she excells in and one she has learned quickly.

Robyn participated in many North Central Roller Championship meets located in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Fall

Fall symbolizes the beginning of new hopes, dreams, plans and lifestyles.

Freshmen experience these new ideas throughout the year by altering their values and attitudes. Fall is also a time to plan for winter and the upcoming seasons. Freshmen anxiously anticipate becoming sophomores and branching out further in their high school years.

Valley Drops Dowling for Metro Title

The Valley Tiger football squad opened the season on a negative note by losing to Mason City 23-0, but then turned things around to become the 1983-84 undefeated Metro champs.

As the season progressed, Coach Lee Crawford saw vast maturity in his team's defensive unit while the veteran offense got things together and started putting points on the board.

According to Crawford, when the defense played badly, the offense would compensate and score points. When the offense couldn't get things rolling, the defense would tie down the opponents.

This was only the second time in the last 15 years that the Tigers have won the Metro title outright. "It was a good blend of seniors and juniors. They fit in real well together," said Crawford.

Twelve players received Metro recognition. First team All-Metro players were: linemen, Randy Twit and Steve Meier; running back, Grant Goodman; receiver, Dennis Ryan; and place-kicker, Matt Elgin rounded out the offensive selections. Defensive selections were: linemen, Mike Judge and Courtney Lawyer; linebackers, Brian McGarry and Rick Danowsky. Second team All-Metro selections were: backs, Todd Buchanan, Jim Nelson; and linebacker, Jeff Hamre.

Coach Crawford also commended Jay Hatch, Rich Moulton, Dave Creighton, Joe Tamse and Scott Peterson for their fine efforts.

Sophomores Carry 8-1 Record

The sophomore football team dominated the conference as they rolled out an 8-1 record and won the mythical Metro title. This same squad was also undefeated as freshmen.

This season marked the debut of Coach Steve France. For the last nine years Coach France had duties at the freshman level, but made quick adjustments as can be seen in the team's winning record.

According to Coach France, contributing factors that made the season so successful were good team speed, good balance between offense and defense and a team effort. Even though this year's squad was smaller in numbers than usual, with only 36 players, they stuck together and were very well balanced.

"The record this year is not due to one or two players. It's a team effort," said Coach France.

Bill Walker sprints for a big gain.

The 1983 freshmen football team ended the season on a positive note by defeating Dowling 8-0 and winning their last three games.

The Tigers finished the season with a 6-1 conference record and 6-2 overall.

Defensively the Tigers were outstanding, according to new coach, Ken Hoogenson. "The first team defense only had five touchdowns scored on them through the entire year." He also commented that the quarterbacks, offensive line and defensive half-backs showed great improvement.

Recognized for their outstanding efforts this year were: Bill Agner, Alec Johnson, B. J. Plummer, Tom Stewart, Brent Hauf, Troy Peechatka, Garrett Martindale, Matt Christensen, Todd Buseman, Ty Leggett, Joe Cavanaugh and Mike Wunn.

Coach Hoogenson also recognized the contributions of assistant coaches Larry Beals, Dick Hanson and Tim Orr for their outstanding efforts.

Boy's C.C. Finishes 5th in State

A first place finish at the district meet and a fifth place finish at state completed the boy's cross country team's season.

Coached by George McVicker, the team had one of its best years in both team scoring and student growth. The team worked hard to achieve the success they had both on and off the practice field.

Senior All-American Jerry Anderson won the boy's class 3-A state meet with his best time of the year, 9:42.6. Jerry was the first in Valley High School history to clinch a state cross country title.

Two other records were broken by this year's team. Mike Holmes set a record with the time of 9:58.9. Also, at the state meet, five runners broke the school record of total team time with 51:05.

The future outlook of boy's cross country looks promising with a good nucleus of juniors, a strong sophomore class and probably the best freshman class ever.

Strong Metro Finish — 2nd

Inexperience did not hamper the girl's cross country team according to Coach Hardin. In fact, the team improved so much that they placed second in the Metro Conference.

Sophomore Sue Temme was an exceptional runner, according to Hardin. She placed fourth in the Metro out of 40 girls and at districts, seventh out of 88 girls.

Mr. Hardin feels that cross country is not recognized enough. His plans for the future are to have more fund-raising runs.

Volleyball: First Time Metro Champs

Valley's volleyball season was extremely successful—the team earned a 12-0 record and the title of "Metro Champs" for the first time in Valley's history.

The girls worked great as a unit and also played their individual positions well. Their ability to play together and desire to win made them eager for victories. Mrs. White stressed, "The girls never gave up, they knew what they had to do and did it."

The team played in the Ottumwa Tournament and placed second. Mrs. White felt the girls played their best and most consistent in these matches. It was the highest level of competition the team met during the year.

Mrs. White, who has coached volleyball for 11 years and her assistant, Miss Doschidas stated that the girls did an excellent job. The participation level was very high with 52 girls completing the season.

Intramurals Present Opportunity for Students

Over 260 students participated in the intramural program which was a considerable increase over past years.

The program's purpose was to emphasize having fun with no pressure to win. Intramurals presented a good opportunity for non-varsity athletes to play in sports.

"Intramurals are a great opportunity to be on a team and compete against your friends. At the varsity level of competition, too much emphasis is put on winning. Here you play to enjoy yourself and have a great time," said John Pogemiller.

The biggest rivalry in the program involves students playing against the faculty team in flag football. This year the faculty lost for the first time in four years, 18-12 in overtime. However, the faculty gained revenge in the championship game, 20-7, according to Mr. Wallace.

The Good Doctor Presented as Fall Play

The fall play, The Good Doctor, was presented by the drama department on Nov. 17th, 18th and 19th by 25 cast members and 17 technical members, along with a publicity crew, directors, managers, advisors and assistants.

The play, by Neil Simon, was based on a series of dramatizations written by a Russian writer, Anton Chekov.

In the play the audience encountered a variety of interesting characters; a solicitous employee who sneezed, inadvertently splattering his boss; a woman of position who learned a lesson about human nature as she attempted to teach her governess about assertiveness; a novice scientist and his patient who appealed to the heavens for surgical aid when medical science failed them; two lonely oldsters who passed a chance to spend time together; an unscrupulous bachelor who was in for a surprise when he tried to add another wife to his list of conquests; a show biz entrepenuer who specialized in drowning; a determined, young actress who made an impression; a liberal father who ended up conserving his son's innocence; a timid, helpless woman who proved to be anything but and two retired soldiers who fought a different kind of war.

Angie Gossen, Julia, in "The Governess," is caught in the act of rehearsing.

Amy Manning, the mistress, tells Julia her servant how much pay she deserves.

The general, Jason Alberty, is angered by Cherdyakov's constant pestering.

Doug Crowley, Cherdyakov, pleads for forgiveness from the general.

Marianne Jensen, Nina, auditions modestly for a part on the stage during rehearsal.

Doug Crowley, Cherdyakov, apologizes for sneezing on the general.

Jill Taylor, calms Lee Sellers down during a tiresome rehearsal.

Great Year for Debaters

Enthusiasm and good depth have proven to be the strong points of the Valley debating team this year. "The enthusiasm is just incredible this year," said Mr. Castle, who coaches the debate team.

The major reason for this enthusiasm is due to the great success this club has had. The team dominated in Metro competition this year, was recognized as one of the state's best in debating and did well in national tournaments.

In particular, Amy Smallenberger excelled in the national tournament. She was recognized as the third best speaker out of 180 schools.

This year's team is also very young, led by Amy Smallenberger, president; Karla Pedersen, vice-president; Chris Eaton, secretary; and Tina Dahl, treasurer. These four seniors have taken the role of leadership while being backed by a very strong group of juniors, sophomores and freshmen.

Other accomplishments have included being Sweepstakes Champions at Iowa City West and Ottumwa as well as placing second in the Hoover tournament.

Journeyman Shakespeare Clubs

Journeyman and Shakespeare clubs were active again this year.

Shakespeare Club had their annual feasts in December and April. The club also attended Oliver! on Oct. 24th.

This year's Shakespeare Club officers were: president, Ellen Baker; vice president, Chris Scarpino; secretary, Jane Hollar; treasurer, Mary Torpy.

Journeyman, Valley's literary magazine, had two co-editors, Chris Yamnitz and Sean Illemszke.

At the beginning of the year Journeyman members had some new ideas that they wanted to incorporate into either this year's magazine or in the following years. These new concepts were an attempt to fully represent the talent of Valley High School. One new idea was a Spotlight flashback featuring the year's main articles.

Journeyman had several new members who brought in many ideas which promised to produce a new and more extensive literary magazine.

1983 Journeyman cover was done by Joe Biel.

Below is the cover from the 1982 Journeyman done by Ron Michka.

Marchmasters Clinch 23rd I

Following a long standing tradition, the Marchmasters received their 23rd consecutive I rating.

Under the direction of Larry Green and Steve McCombs, the Marchmasters also finished in top form at the Blue Springs, Missouri Festival with a second place finish. In addition, the Silvers won for outstanding drill team.

The Marchmasters traveled to St. Petersburg, Florida April 3-8th to perform in parade and field competition at the Festival of States. Magazine, fruit and cheese sales helped to contribute money for the trip.

McCombs said a major factor in the Marchmaster's consistent success was staying up to date. "The group is always striving for a contemporary look on the field in the competitive marching circuit," he said.

Senior leadership also contributed to the Marchmaster's achievements. "The upperclassmen led the younger ones through," McCombs said. He added, "We received excellent leadership from the Silver captains as well."

Winter

Winter lies in the middle of the four seasons and is a time when activities come to a standstill. During this slow period, plans are made for the upcoming spring and the distant summer. Sophomores represent this description in that they are no longer at the bottom of the ladder, but are still not considered "upper classmen." A sophomore's thoughts extend to their future high school years as juniors and then seniors.

Undefeated Varsity Cagers Dominate Metro

For the first time in 11 years the varsity boy's basketball team dominated the Metro conference. Throughout the season, the Tigers were constantly rated 2nd in the state by U.P.I. and the Des Moines Register.

With the strong leadership of seniors Michael Born, Grant Goodman, Jay P. Hatch, Darren Shafer and junior Matt Bullard, the Tigers did not experience one setback in Metro play and won the championship outright.

Coach O'Dea credited this year's success to strong team play and the philosophy that you take the season one game at a time.

Another development were new coaches filling in at all levels of the basketball program. Jim O'Dea took over as head varsity coach, Larry Beals as O'Dea's assistant and junior varsity coach, while Jeff Hill and Craig Herr were the new sophomore coaches and Ken Hoogenson and Bob Hardin filled in as the freshmen coaches.

Michael Born powers his way up for two points.

Drill Team

Valley's drill team performed at more games than ever this past year. The team performed at every boy's varsity basketball game and most of the girl's games. In addition, the team was invited to perform at several Drake basketball games.

Tryouts for this year's drill team were held in May of 1983. Only juniors and seniors could participate. Starting in October and going through February, the 16 members and two alternates practiced Monday through Friday starting at 6:45 AM.

All that practice paid off at the 1983 Iowa State Drill Team Camp. The team was again named the most outstanding squad and won 65 out of 85 blue ribbons with the rest being second place. The team also won every other award given including, best home routine.

The captains for this past year's squad were Jill Stewart, Suzanne Phillips and Jennie Olney.

Jennie Olney and Jeni Dowell anxiously wait to perform at a game.

Positive Attitude, Team Work Stressed

"My main goal was to have every player strive to play up to their ability each night," said girl's basketball Coach Dave Van Ahn.

Other important goals also stressed by Coach Van Ahn were the concept of working together and the development of a positive mental attitude before each game.

These team goals resulted in free throws being the strongest area for the girls. The team shot an excellent 75% for the season, according to Coach Van Ahn. Cathy Gately, Jennifer Jessen, Sue Beavers and Lisa Hirter were the team leaders this season.

Overall, the team played with character and pride, according to Coach Van Ahn.

Wrestlers Show Pride During Season

Improvement during the season was the biggest accomplishment of the wrestling team besides placing second in the VHS Wrestling Tournament, according to Coach Underfer.

"The sophomores were the most improved members of the team. Many of them were used in competition sooner than when they were ready, said Coach Underfer.

A large amount of juniors and sophomores populated the varsity squad. This was a factor in the team not being quite as successful as last year's. However, the future outlook is excellent due to this fact. A strong nucleus of experienced freshmen, sophomores and juniors will soon be wrestling varsity, according to Coach Underfer.

Another Successful Season for Girls

A fifth place finish at state capped a succesful season for the girl's swim team.

Season highlights included tying Roosevelt in a dual meet and the qualification of so many swimmers for the state meet.

Coach Wagner stated that he was very pleased with the season and also added that the team was young and had a lot of talent. He expects another winning season next year.

Outstanding swimmers for the season were: Nancy Lauen, Margie Crammer, Chris Borgen, Heather Keefe and state champion diver, Theresa Michal.

Swimmers who qualified for state were: seniors, Theresa Michal; junior, Sandra Whitehurst; sophomores, Laurilyn Goettsch, Shelly Lehman; and freshman, Debbie Essex.

Varsity Swimmers Complete Perfect Season

"Fantastic!" said Coach Wagner in regard to his team's performance this year.

The Valley High School Boy's Swimming team completed their sixth undefeated season while also maintaining a number one ranking throughout the entire season.

Mr. Wagner credited his successful season to team effort. Five swimmers; Craig Oppel, Tad Calkins, Dan Kadlec, Mike Koerner, Jeb Barmish and team divers; Jason Michal and Kip Reed really stood out, according to Coach Wagner. These swimmers helped guide Valley to a conference and district championship.

Valley expected Cedar Rapids Washington to be their toughest meet along with the Metro Conference Championships. The Tigers outdistanced Cedar Rapids Washington by over 30 points and easily clinched the Metro title.

Craig Oppel, who set school records in the 50 free, 100 fly and 100 free, along with Tad Calkins and Dan Kadlec have all been sought for recruitment by major colleges throughout the United States.

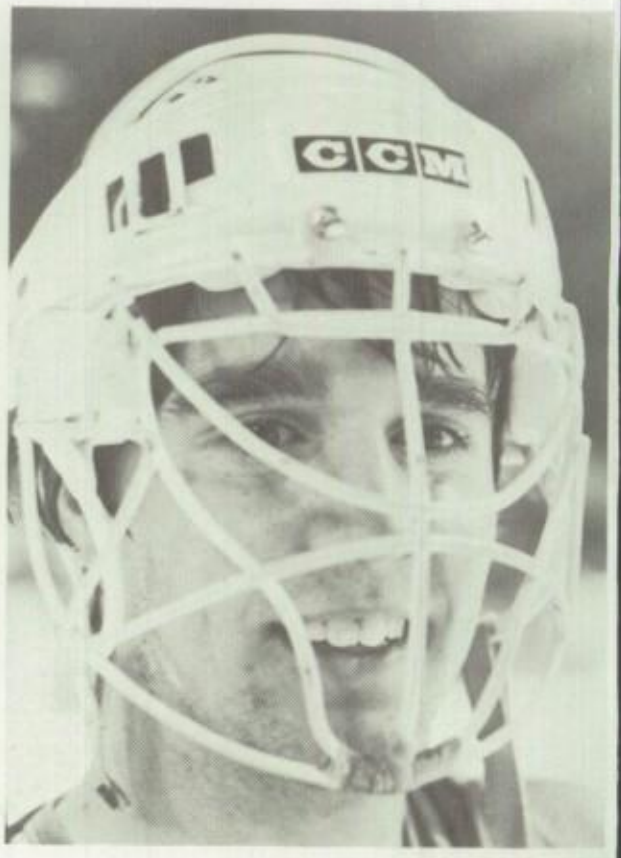
Valley-Dowling Hockey Merger Ends Rivalry

The old Valley vs. Dowling rivalry was abruptly ended through the merger of the two hockey clubs.

Players from each school worked very well together especially in two of their toughest games against Waterloo Columbus and Urbandale. The Valley-Dowling team played rigorously and achieved these two unexpected wins.

The Valley-Dowling Hockey Club is a self-supporting organization. A successful gift wrapping booth at Valley West Mall and many advertising sales helped to support the club. Also, parents and hockey cheerleaders played a big part in financing the team.

Hockey has been a sport at Valley for 13 years. For eight of those years the team has been coached by Julian Nixon. He enjoys coaching very much and felt the team did a good job this year. One of his greatest expectations is, "I hope the boys in hockey will be considered as varsity athletes because they spend as much time and effort as any other varsity athlete at Valley and Dowling."



John Moulton watches the game with great anticipation.

A young gymanstics team consisting of mostly freshmen and sophomores showed good potential during the season, according to Lori Vickers, head coach.

Coach Vickers felt that the youngness of the team will lead to some successful seasons in future years.

Among the 17 girls on the team, Laney Richardson was ranked fifth in the state on the balance beam.

Wendy Schutt displays her perfection as she rehearses her routine.

Concert Band Excels with Talent

Concert Band, under the direction of Larry Green, contained about 148 students. The exceptionally talented players from the band were split into two elite groups, Symphony 1 and Symphony 2. These bands played throughout the year at many home concerts and hosted an exchange concert between neighboring schools in the spring.

Concert Band students practice hard to be the very best.

Jazz Band Strives For Excellence

Jazz I performed at several festivals and competitions this past year which included Midwestern at Pella, Kirksville, Hoover and the UNI Jazz Festival.

Among the competitions Jazz I placed first at SCIBA and districts. As Mr. Green said at the beginning of the year, "We have the talent to do as well this year as in the past years." Through constant practice Jazz I hoped to maintain their high level of excellence.

As in past years Jazz I performed at Valley's Winter and Spring Holiday assemblies and at the Iowa State Girl's Basketball Tournament.

Nine members returned from last year's championship band. These students are all considered to be excellent leaders and soloists by Mr. Green.

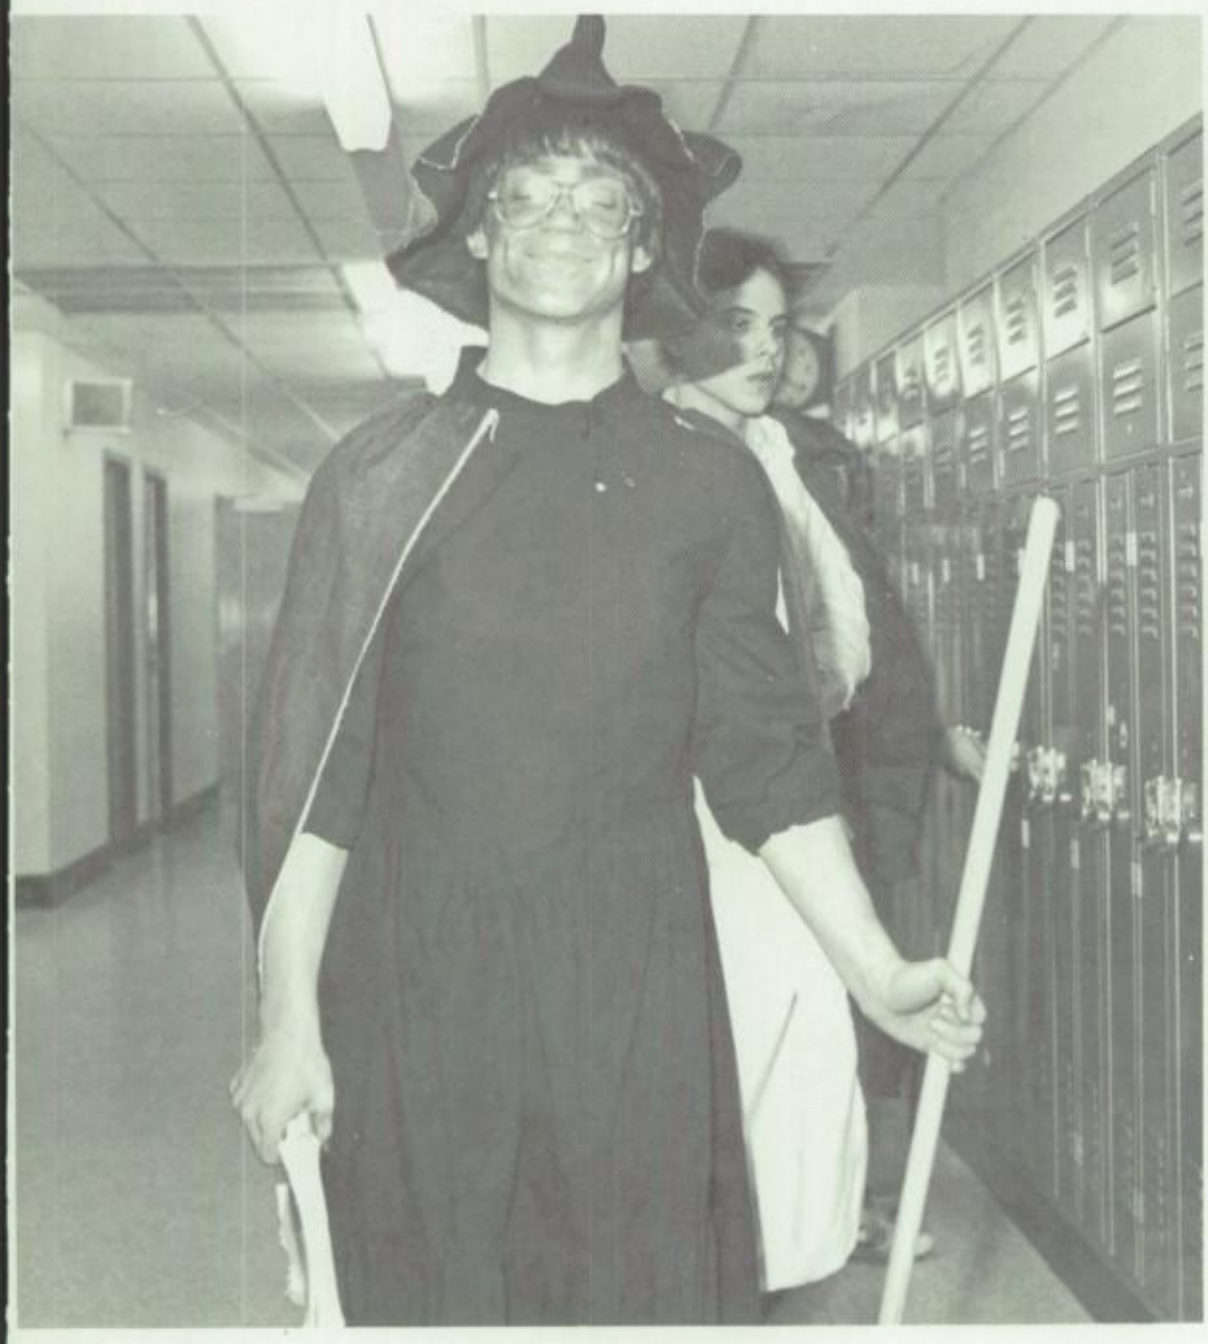
This year the Thespian troop grew by seven new initiates: Doug Crowley, Jennie Randell, Suzi Sheldon, Angi Gossen, David Larsen, Lee Sellers and Debbie Miller.

The Thespians went to the Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis, MN in January to watch the Children's Repatory Theater.

In the spring the Thespians presented a dinner theater at Valley High School. On Oct. 17th the Thespians directed four one-act plays.

Thespian officers: Diane Garner, secretary; Phil Oggero, president; Ellen Baker, vice-president.

During initiation week, Lee Sellers dressed-up as his favorite character.



Art Expands

Art Club expanded its range of interests which boosted membership to over 30 students.

Instead of centering its interests on basic two-dimensional art, more members preferred three-dimensional forms.

The club worked on various projects to raise money and to have a good time. Everything from personalized buttons to a first prize float at the Homecoming parade were projects.

Some big events for the school year included a trip to Kansas City and a few enormous bake sales. During the trip to Kansas City, the club visited various museums and galleries along with shopping.

AFS weekend, front: Moeketsi Meka, Ms. Abeysiriganawardana, Simon Dew, Michiko Short. Back: Chris Yamnitz, Marti Hansen, Modi Glick, Lea Trickett, Chikako Dejama, Lucero Noguera, Eric Ledoight.

American Field Service grew into a more active and popular program with 20 members. Mr. Yearns, head of AFS, felt that more students were interested in the program.

Michelle Powers, president of AFS, with the help of Chris Yamintz as vice-president, planned special projects to raise money. A talent show and many bake sales were held to support the AFS program.

Two new foreign exchange students were Lucero Noguero from Cali, Columbia and Eric Ledoight from Raven, France.

"It is a good opportunity for students to meet other students from different cultures," stated Mr. Yearns.

Chess Club was very competitive and challenging. A total of ten students were involved in the program on a consistent basis. A main highlight was entering the Iowa State Chess Tournament.

Chorus Nets 7 for All-State

Every year Valley's choir department has been outstanding and deserves much recognition. Mr. Clark was head of the department for his twelfth year and felt very rewarded by their accomplishments.

The entire choir recorded an album, The Christmas Album, which was released Dec. 5th. This album was presented to Governor Branstad at the state capital on Dec. 2nd. The album's purpose was to provide motivation for a challenge, publicity in the community and to make a small profit.

"They have great potential and my goal is to help them reach that excellence. Young people can do a lot more than they think possible if they are willing to give themselves to the group effort," stated Mr. Clark.

Bass Clef sang at the Boy's State Basketball Tournament on March 16th and 17th by opening each evening with the National Anthem.

This year the following seven students made All-State: Elizabeth Staplin (accompanist), Tim Grabinski, Michelle Wenndt, Tom Wright, Bethaney McCleary, Julia Green and Brett Beeman.

The accompanist for the All-State Choir was an extremely big honor because only two people from Iowa were chosen.

Computers Expand At Valley

Even though computer courses have only been offered the past six years, these courses constitute some of the largest classes at Valley.

In the fall of 1978 Valley purchased two phone monitored computers and started the first computer class, Computer Programming. This year Valley purchased 28 new Apple IIe's and hired a new computer teacher, Mr. Dahlby. Valley now has four full time instructors and 14 different class sections.

Making computer courses at Valley a requirement is a controversial question. Mr. Frerichs, computer department head, states that he doesn't think that programming courses should be required, but people should become familiar with the basic aspects of computers due to their use in many departments at Valley. Computer training would also be a definite advantage when looking for a job.

Valley Offers Opinions on Point System

Tami Allen, freshman, said, "I think the point system is better because staying after school doesn't serve any purpose."

Richard Moulton, senior, said, "The detention system was better because with the point system it is too easy to be suspended. Suspension points are handed out too quickly and they end in too severe punishment."

Mrs. Vincent, hall supervisor, said, "I think the point system is better because everyone knows exactly why the punishment was given."

Spring

Spring is filled with new developments which extend outward to full growth and stability. This time of year marks when knowledge previously learned is finally recognized and used to achieve goals. Juniors are examples of spring in that they come to realize their destination and start planning to assume responsibilities as the upcoming seniors and leaders of the school. Juniors begin using their past knowledge as a basis for their future adult lives.

Valley Fashions in Vogue

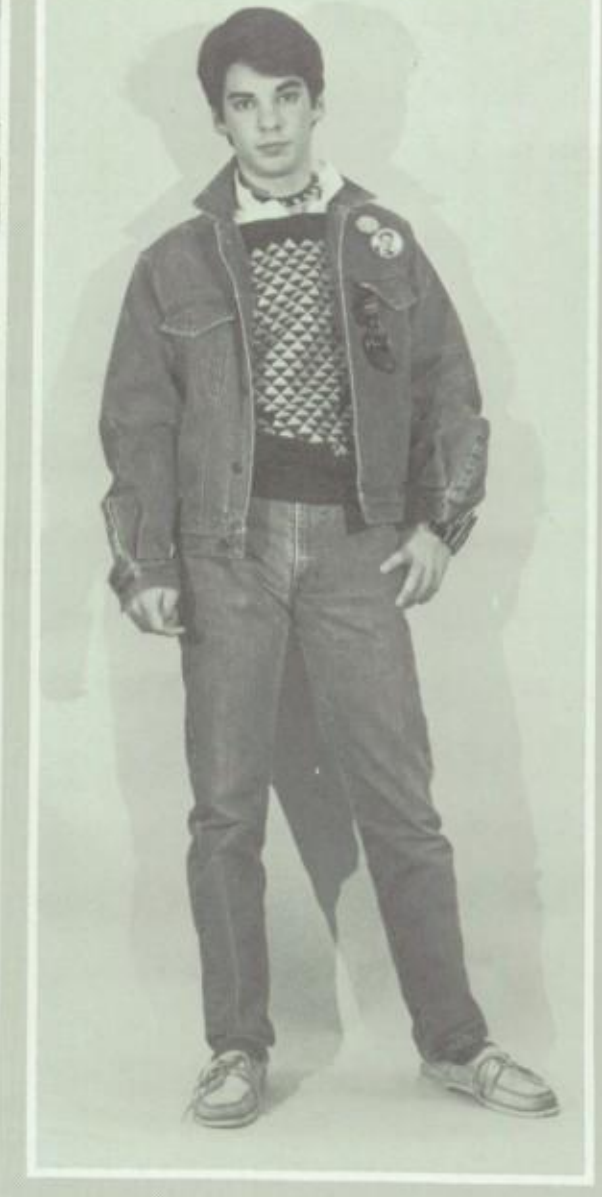
Valley fashion extended its range of style by adopting a few new looks during the 1983-84 school year.

Colored hose, walking shorts and mini skirts contributed to a well-rounded look for girls. The return of the jean jacket added a new element in the guys' wardrobe while retaining the traditional oxord shirts, sporty polo shirts and the standard pair of blue jeans.

Students wore other fashions such as sweatshirts, bandanas and leg warmers. These were the most exciting variables in the Flashdance look.

Other popular fashions included designer, pinstripped and checked jeans which gave girl's jeans the dressier look. The guys seemed to prefer plain blue jeans, Norweigen fishing sweaters and argyl sweaters.

Models: Jay Nakashima, Dan Garret, Cory Anderson, Renee Buising, Diana Iles, Lana Novotony, Mary Hollis, and Lisa Staves.



Co-Editors Alter Format

Under the direction of Brenda Ellingson and Carla Reed, co-editors of the Tiger Tales staff, the book's format was completely changed from previous years.

Events were displayed in chronological order and put into sections which were designated as seasons of the year. This different style represented the "Branching Out" theme.

"We wanted to show how students change from their freshman year to senior year by trying to relate the seasons to the different classes," said Brenda Ellingson, co-editor.

The yearbook staff had a considerable change in size. Last year's staff consisted of 16 total members while this year the staff was up to 28 members.

"The staff worked very hard to meet their deadlines," said Carla Reed, co-editor.

Back: Mr. Franck, Rich Glenn, Lisa Jule Nicholls, Lori Harris, Vicki Varellas, John Brigance, Travis Thompson, Ted Ondracek.

Spotlight was a finalist again this year for the Pacemaker Award which is given to the top five newspapers in the country. Valley previously won this award in 1979 and were finalists in 1982. Spotlight also won the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's "Silver Crown."

The staff began the year with a small disadvantage, most staffers were new and inexperienced. With their motto, "Team Work," they attempted to work around problems that cropped up.

"Spotlight's goal was to publish one of the finest publications that serves the school and the community," stated Wendy Valentine.

New Leadership

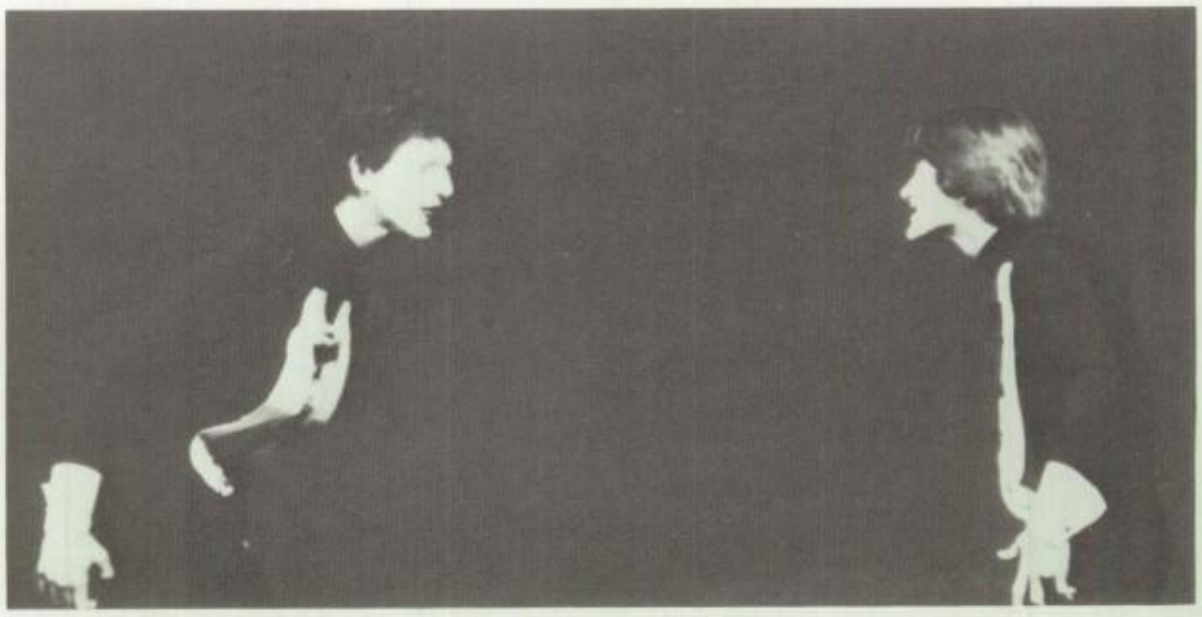
The Baker's Dozen received a new sponsor, Jay Andrews, who previously was a volunteer co-sponsor last year. After sponsor Beth Wendricks moved this past summer, Mr. Andrews took over the responsibility for the troop.

Again the Baker's Dozen presented their annual Fall and Spring Nite shows. Every show remained a secret until performed. "We base our shows on the element of surprise," said Brenda Ellingson, president.

"We try not to let any information about the show leak out so that we can catch the audience off guard," said Vice-President Doug Crowley.

Try-outs for the Baker's Dozen are held annually after the Fall Nite show. People trying out are required to perform an individual mime and then are given an improv idea to do. "My improv was to be a dancer in Flashdance," said Tom Torpy, sophomore, "and I didn't even see the movie."

The leaders of the troop were: Brenda Ellingson, Doug Crowley and Jay Andrews, sponsor.



Phil Oggero and Doug Crowley fight like women in the mime, The Duel.

Second: Stephanie Stone, Andrea Blessing, Jyll Sandegren, Raligh Welch, Kevin Vore, Todd Koble, Craig Drumheller, Pat McGuire. Back: Jeff Knee, Alan Stoffer, Joe Gallager, Phil Lenard, Tom Meehan.

Changes at KWDM this year included extending broadcasting hours and improving basketball coverage.

Every morning KWDM went on the air at 7:00 AM with Shawn Elmore and Steve Melbostad. This was a first for broadcasting that early in the morning. At night KWDM signed off the air at 5:00 PM.

"The morning show gave students a chance to hear KWDM. Usually KWDM is only on during school hours and students can't hear it then. The show's purpose was to inform and provide humor all at the same time," Elmore said.

KWDM held their second annual Radiothon in April. It was run by Radio II students and raised money for the station. Live entertainment was in the student center and broadcast over the air. People also could make pledges for the radio station.

KWDM broadcasted every home varsity football game and the varsity, JV and sophomore boy's and the varsity girl's games.

Adviser Becky Maxwell said, "This year ran very smoothly because of the directors."

The Cookmans Retire from FCA

Mr. and Mrs. Cookman retired after 19 years of service to FCA in which they worked with Valley students for the past 15 years.

Their first four years were spent in Johnston organizing the FCA program.

Laurie and Bryce Poynter are to be the new heads of Valley's FCA.

As Mr. Cookman put it, "Both our children will have graduated by the end of this year and we felt that it was time for younger people to take over FCA."

FCA met every Monday evening at the Cookman's home for anyone interested in athletics. The group gave students a chance to share their feelings and concerns with others. This is done by dividing into "huddle groups" with a Master Coach who helps each group discuss their problems.

Every month the group had an activity night. They went to Drake basketball games, had gym nights and also sold programs at the Iowa State Wrestling Tournaments and Drake Relays to earn money to attend summer conferences in Northfield, MN.

OE prepares students for college and business with practical skills and on the job experience.

Students taking the class leave after their last class—usually third hour to work at another job. The students worked on many money making projects such as selling crystal, stuffed animals, and a Fun Kit which contained at least 20 different items. OE sponsored an annual Christmas party for needy families on Dec. 17th.

Some students attended a State Leadership Contest and competed in accounting and secretarial tests.

DECA, the Distributive Education Club of America, is a national club designed to help prepare students for marketing and distribution occupations.

Students spent two class periods studying subjects such as marketing research, advertising, visual merchandizing and government regulations. In the afternoons, students spent an average of 15 hours a week under a "training plan" in a distributive occupation. The DECA Club held their annual Christmas party for needy children on Dec. 23rd with funds raised by selling such things as brass, cookies and candy.

Some students attended the area contest in February and the state contest in March. At the contests they competed in such areas as salesmanship and advertising.

The two clubs work together to help prepare students for a better, more experienced business world. The main difference between the two is that OE is designed for office work and DE is geared towards the sales and marketing aspect.

Lucy Carnahan Retires After 12 Years

After 12 years of dedicated service to Valley High School, Lucy Carnahan retired.

Lucy stated that it felt wonderful to retire from her "second home." She plans to work in her rose garden and do some traveling.

Lucy was always busy and enjoyed working on the show cases and in the media center. Another reason Lucy enjoyed her job was because she loved to work with the students and teachers. According to Lucy, 90% of the students were perfect, the other 10%, close to perfect. Lucy also respected all the teachers and said that they were hard-working, friendly and understanding.

"The students liked and respected her. She kept things neat. If someone needed help, she was always there and she treated the students like friends and would joke with us when others would not. Lucy respected us as much as we respected her," said Kim Alston.

"Lucy tried and did successfully become a friend to all the students. She not only did her job, but helped everybody out with their problems and special needs," said Mr. Ferry.

"Lucy was a mother to everyone, including myself. She took care of all of us," said Coach Bill Coldiron.

Lucy Carnahan retired after 12 years of service to Valley High School.

Lucy takes note of the duties for the day that need to be fulfilled.

If you're a Valley Student, your flowers should be by Valley Florist. WHY?

1. The person you give them to will know you cared enough to give the best—from Valley Florist.

2. The amount you pay from Valley Florist will be less than any other West Des Moines florist.

3. You can't get the same quality from anyone else, but Valley Florist, anyway.

4. Contrary to popular belief, you won't be attacked when you come in the front door at Valley Florist.

Rick Anderson and Todd Eyler discuss their last play.

A crowd of Valley students enjoy the football game.

An enthusiastic Valley crowd gets excited during a pep assembly.

What? says Rich Moulton as he looks up.

Scott Peterson shows his rating of Valley.

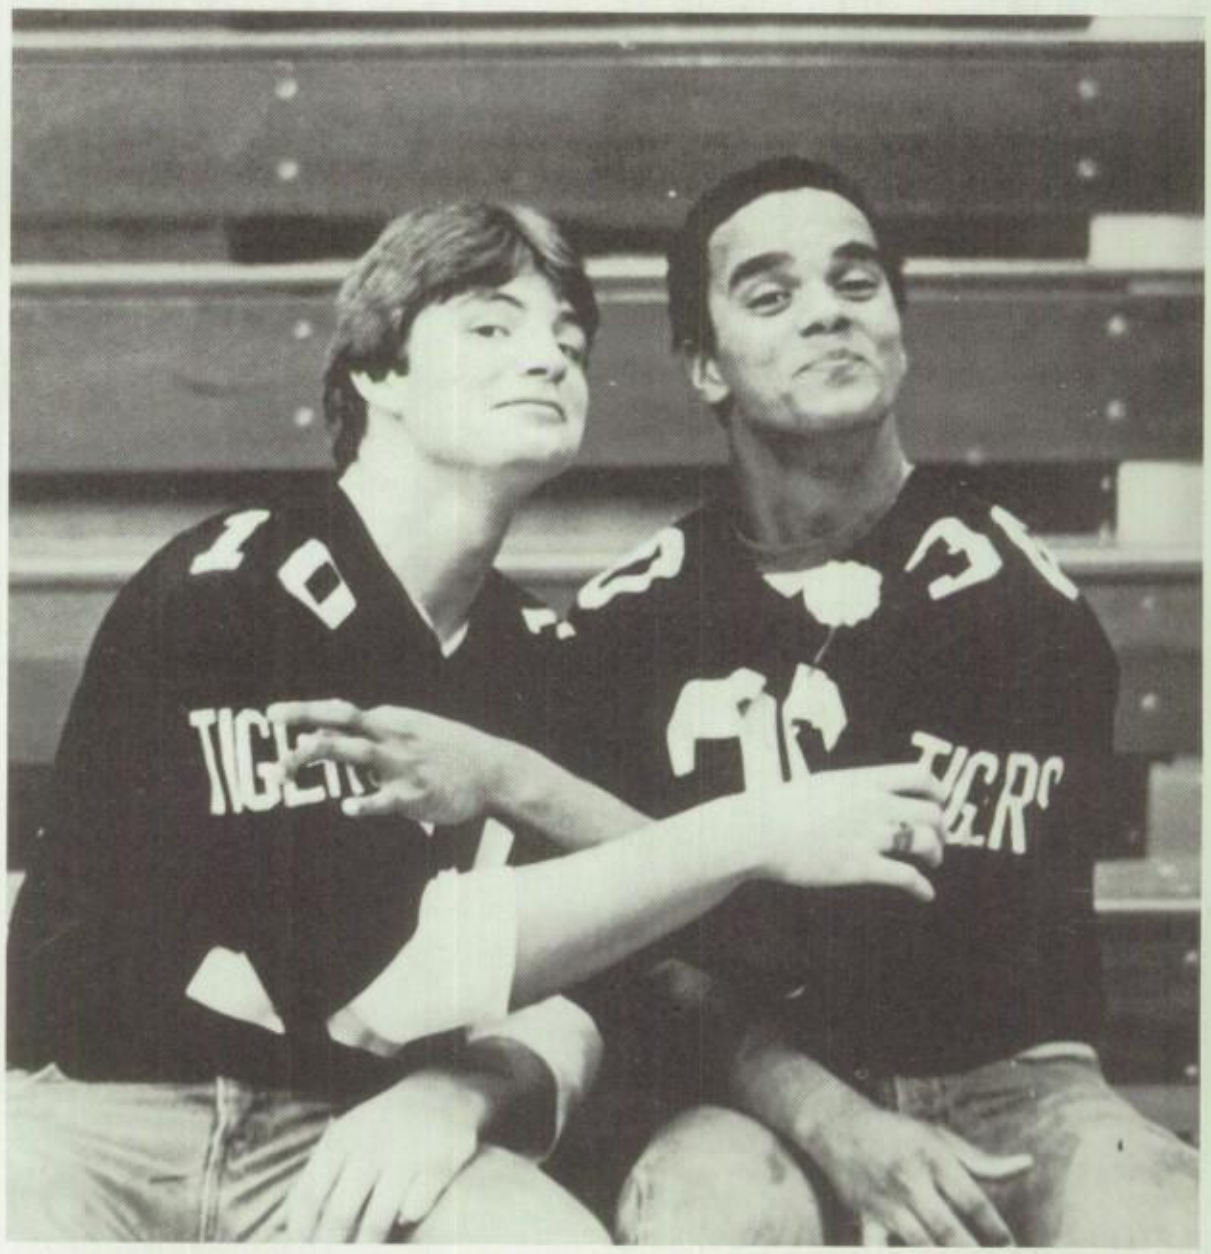
Jay Hatch and Grant Goodman display their friendship.



Although being co-editors of the 1983-84 yearbook was a lot of hard work, we enjoyed organizing a book that will be treasured for many years. We decided to alter the format of the yearbook to represent the changes a student goes through during their high school years. Hopefully you will see this as a positive adjustment. Most books are only read once, but we are confident that you will find this a valuable reminder of the past and will refer to it often.

We want to extend our congratulations to all those who were part of Valley's extra-curricular activities. Combined together with your outstanding qualities, you are the ones who have made this yearbook a symbolism of pride.

A multitude of details makes it impossible to catch every error. The staff tried their best to prevent any misspellings or misinterpretations, but for any which may exist, we extend our apologies.

We hope the 1983-84 school year was a memorable one and that some of its good times are relived through this book. We wish Valley students good luck for a successful life and hope the education that you have obtained here will help you reach your goals in the future.

Our best to the class of '84!

Brenda Ellingson

LORI - You are a super sweet friend SWELL gal who I really love a lot we haven't done anything forever but that is going to change! 6 & the hint?? Have a super summer and please call me sometime! Much love - Shelly Bolton

Acknowledgements

As the year comes to an end, we want to extend our sincere thanks to the people who went out of their way to put this yearbook together. Deserving special mention are:

—All advisers and coaches for cooperating with our deadlines even though they were as pressed for time as we were,

—Paul Havnen, Barry MacCallum and the many other ICP representatives for understanding our last minute dilemmas,

—Mr. Brindley for all the help he has been and for his willingness to give up many hours of his spare time, —Mr. Baker and the photographers for taking the pictures that we requested, —the staff for working under the pressures that are entailed in producing a yearbook,

—Shelly Wolfe for her unlimited amount of help throughout the year, —and Jill Stewart for the special graphic effects and art work used in the book. Without the help from these people there would be no book.

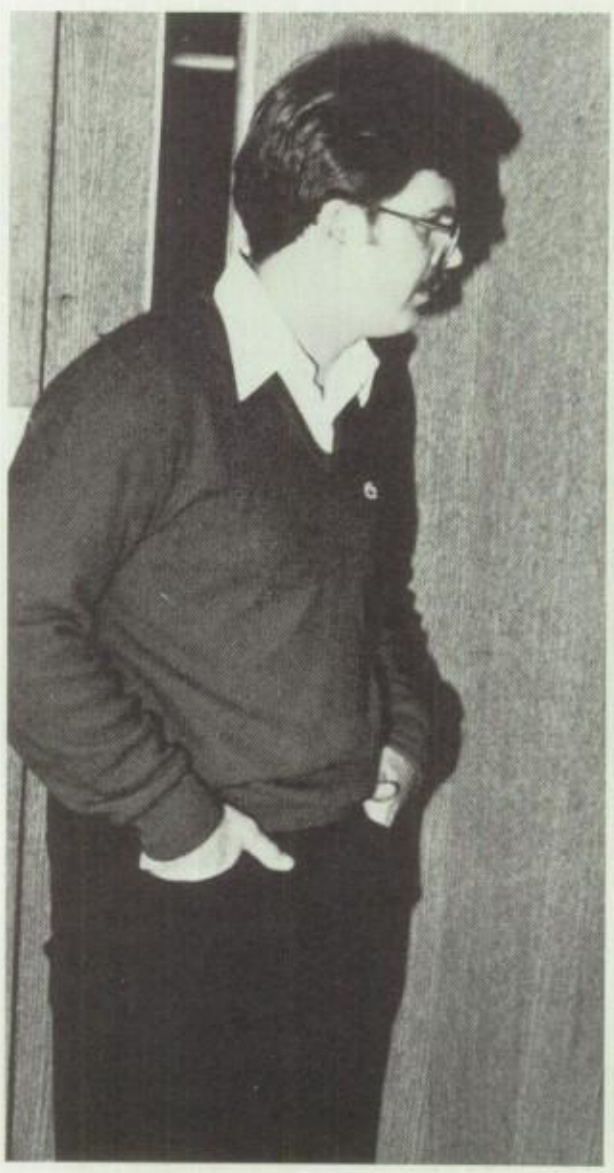
We want to take this opportunity to give our thanks to VHS for providing us with some of the best high school memories possible.

Carla Reed and Brenda Ellingson
Co-Editors

The 1984 Tiger Tales is printed as a 176 page, 1,200 issue with a 16 page summer supplement, Volume 32 yearbook. Basic typeface for headlines, body copy and caption copy is Souvenir. Liner stock is vellum with a 30% blue background with 100% enamel printed in black ink. The cover is a special embossed design executed by the yearbook staff with gold ink applied to a 100% black base with driftwood grain. Beginning signature is printed in 4 color on front flat and special blend process #1—3 color on selected front and reverse flat pages. The senior section is screened 30% black. Typesetting, printing and binding is by Inter-Collegiate Press Inc. of Shawnee Mission, Kansas.



Scott Peterson and Gwen Boughton spend time selling yearbooks.

Mr. Brindley discusses questions about the yearbook.

Lori-

you are such a super cute girl, remember what spazes we were at the Quick Stop looking at the magazines! I hope this we can get together and do some more spastick things or just go to the beach and lay out. Well keep en touch!! Love ya!!

"Twinkie"
How'd ya get that name?

Hope you always realize that you are the smartest, sweetest, most pretty and very classy girl I've ever met! Seriously, you are 2 years younger than me and I look up to you in so many ways. Thanks for being a great friend and always being there for me. I'll miss you next year when you're off at "Impolac" Ugh- I'm not looking forward to summers without you, but I'll be over to visit you all the time. Don't forget me!

Love,
Christy

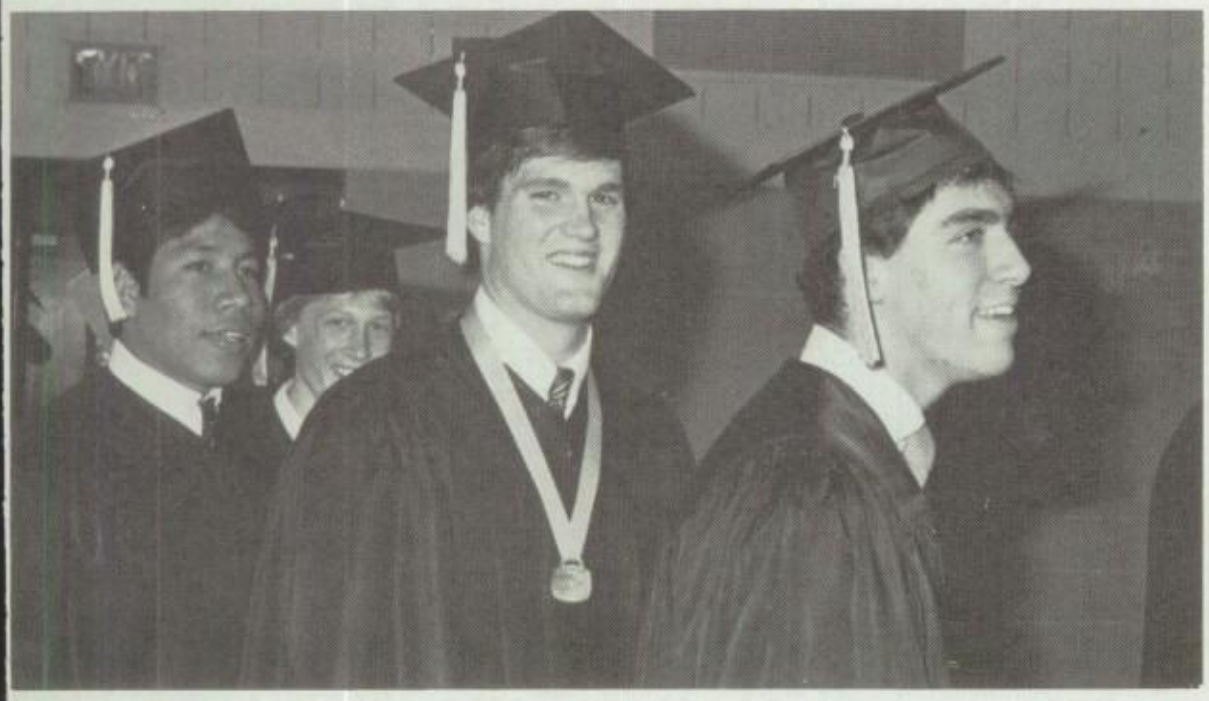
A line of seniors stand to receive their diploma.



Jeff Cookman awaits patiently to receive his diploma.

Dr. Pat Sullivan does the honor of passing out diplomas.

John and Richard Moulton express their happiness on graduation day.

Tameless, Swift and Proud

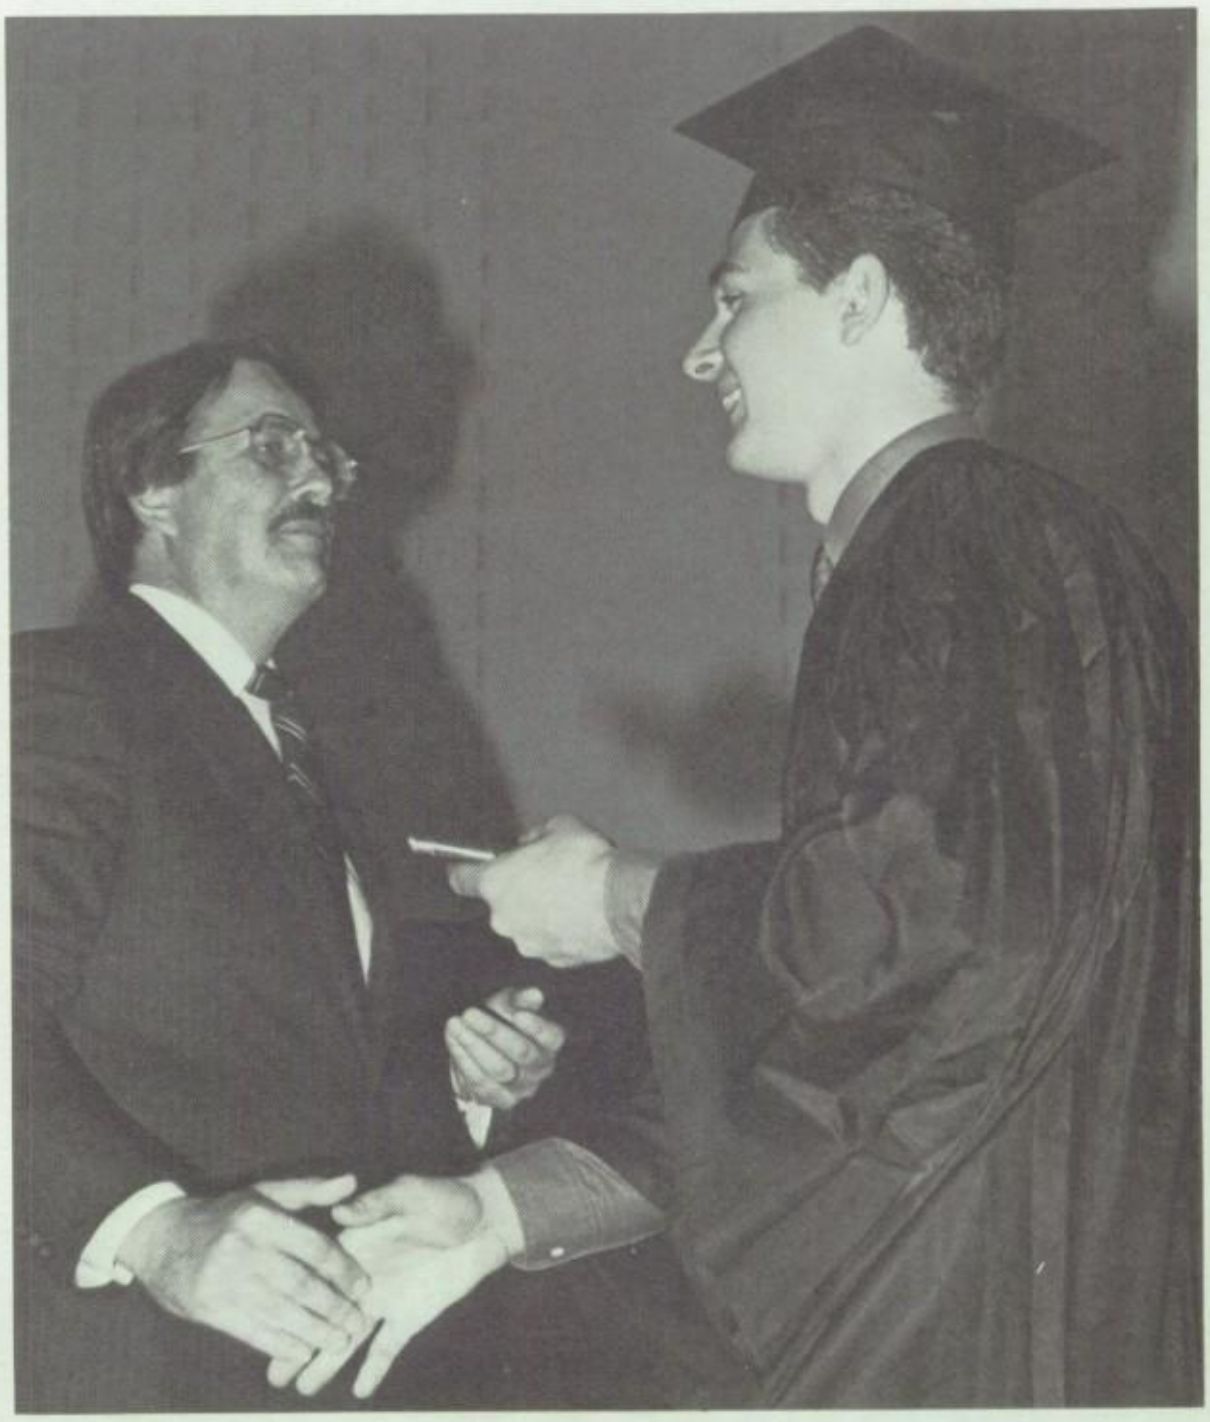
This year the ceremony for the students of the graduating class of 1984 was held on May 20th.

The ceremony began at 2:30 p.m. in the field house with the class marching in wearing gray and black gowns and the girls carrying salmon pink roses.

Dr. Grabinski, superintendent, announced the valedictorians: Jeff Hamre, Dan Kadlec, Jennifer VerLinden and Mike Zimmerman. Following this special honor Dr. Grabinski delivered a speech in which he summed up the year.

Diane Garner, Grant Goodman, Dennis Ryan and Jay Hatch were the student speakers this year.

The diplomas were passed out which concluded commencement amid much cheering and yelling.



Eric Ledoigt feels a sense of accomplishment.

Jim Glass shows his sign of approval.

Be Your Own Hero!

Sixty girls, who call themselves The Tiger Lillies, performed at the annual synchro show on April 13th and 14th.

The theme, which was voted on by The Tiger Lillies, was "Be Your Own Hero" with MC's Phil Oggero and Doug Crowley playing the part of Batman and Robin.

The theme was carried throughout the show with a variety of songs about different heroes. One song, Mellowdrama, was used during a favorite scene performed by six girls who acted the part of the traditional "Damsels in Distress."

The people involved in the synchro show started working in February. Time and work was not only put into the routines, but also into the making of the set.

"The girls worked very hard to perfect their routines and it resulted in a very good show," stated Mrs. Struck, coach of The Tiger Lillies.

K.J. Erickson is ready for her solo number.

The competition is fierce in the high hurdles.

Both the girl's and boy's track teams completed strong seasons and sent members to the state competition level.

Girl's track consisted of some outstanding members who were just beginning their track career. The 4 x 400 team qualified for the second year at the Drake Relays held on April 27th. The team took seventh place in the Metro Conference and had ten girls qualify as participants in the class 3A meet. The 4 x 400 placed fourth in state while the 4 x 800 placed third. Two individuals who placed were Kelly Kane with a first place finish in the long jump and Stephanie Svoboda throwing the discus. Coach McGowan stated that many sophomores were outstanding and in particular: Sue Temme, Carrie Hanson, Beth Lesher and Susan Cross.

Boy's track had another successful year. The team took second place at the Valley Relays, Early Bird Invitational and in Metro next to Ames. The following events qualified for state: Jerry Anderson in the 3200, 1600; Karlos Kirby in the 100, 200; Steve Meier, shotput; Randy Twit, discus; Bill Bankus, 400 low hurdles; John Pogermiller, 400; Todd Buchannan and Herb Hollwager, 800; Jamie Kirby, 200. The following relay teams also qualified for state: 4 x 100; 4 x 200; 4 x 800. Coach Hardin believes the boy's track team has the potential to place well in the state events.

Takahiro Hosojima pushes it to the limit for the boy's track team.

Another Winning Season for Golf

Coach Coldiron led both golf teams to another winning season. The girl's team finished first in district play with a 7-0 Metro record. As a result of this outstanding finish, the team will be advancing to the state tournament.

A tie between Valley and Dowling resulted in both teams placing first in districts. Valley boys will advance to state with a 6-1 record.

Outstanding players from both teams included: John Erickson, Tom Straw, Jill Foster and Kris DenOuden.

Letterwinners for the girls included: Jill Foster, Kris DenOuden, Shannan Acheson, Sue Buising, Kelly Coleman, Beth Egly, Lori Lockridge, Saundy Whitehurst, Leslie Lockridge, Sue Lorenz and Denise McDaniel.

Letterwinners for the boys included: John Erickson, Tom Straw, Eric Judge, Trace Hennesy, Dave Beall, Brent Cheney, Brad Houck, Rob Pentico, Tim Cox, Travis Acheson, Brian Staudenmaier and Scott Geiger.

Progress Key to Successful Tennis Teams

Progress was the key term used to describe the girl's tennis team by Coach France. "With only two seniors and one junior in the top 10, it was hard to win consistently," said Coach France.

Both Dede Johnson and Kristy Nebergall were mentioned as good prospects in sectionals, districts and possibly state. However, the competition looked extremely tough, according to Coach France.

Coach Jagim's boy's tennis team completed a perfect season in Metro conference play.

The boys were also successful at the Ankeny Invitational and district tournament.

Outstanding players noted by Coach Jagim were: Chris Huston, Joe Chung, Richard Chung, Ian Yates, Jeff Garrison and Brett Halley.

Both the girl's and boy's tennis teams look promising for the upcoming year, according to Coach France and Coach Jagim.

Salute to America

On March 10th, the 18th annual Salute to America was held at Vet's Auditorium under the direction of Sam Kranovich, Larry Green, Steve McCombs and Jane Rynehart.

Pagent was a musical tribute to America with special recognition to Iowa. The pagent consisted of four scenes of flags and dance drill groups. Lisa Morgan played the part of Miss Iowa and Ann Burgraff played the part of Miss America.

A group of approximately 200 girls participated with great support from the jazz band. Pagent practices started at 7:00 every morning and lasted for two months.

Once again pagent was a great success, according to Mr. Kranovich.

Double-Casting: A Success in Spring Play

Guys and Dolls, based on a series of short stories by Damon Runyon, was a very suspenseful and exciting musical.

Director Jim Lamson chose the play because of the interesting music and the good dance possibilities. It also marked the first time that double-casting was used. This gave many students opportunities to participate in the play and made it more appealing to the audience.

Play preparation began early in January. Because double-casting was used, much extra work was put into the play. Play practice for the 70 cast members was long and strenuous, but well worth the extra time and effort.

Guys and Dolls was performed over four nights and approximately 2,000 people attended the play. Overall, Mr. Lamson said, "I was very pleased with the success of Guys and Dolls."

Tom Wright and Jennifer Randell show their talents as Sky Masterson and Sarah.

A Touch of Class

The annual Junior-Senior Prom was held on May 5th at the elegant Terrace Room in the Hotel Savery.

This year's theme chosen by the Junior Council was "Touch of Class." Entertainment for the evening was provided by "Flipside" which kept the students dancing till midnight.

The evening didn't end at the close of the dance. An all night party at the Walnut Creek Y.M.C.A. was put on by the Chemical People along with a group of Valley students and parents. No admission was charged and a free breakfast was served at 4:00 a.m. K.W.D.M. provided the music for the event which was highlighted by casino games and prizes for many lucky students.

Be Your Own Hero!

Sixty girls, who call themselves The Tiger Lillies, performed at the annual synchro show on April 13th and 14th.

The theme, which was voted on by The Tiger Lillies, was "Be Your Own Hero" with MC's Phil Oggero and Doug Crowley playing the part of Batman and Robin.

The theme was carried throughout the show with a variety of songs about different heroes. One song, Mellowdrama, was used during a favorite scene performed by six girls who acted the part of the traditional "Damsels in Distress."

The people involved in the synchro show started working in February. Time and work was not only put into the routines, but also into the making of the set.

"The girls worked very hard to perfect their routines and it resulted in a very good show," stated Mrs. Struck, coach of The Tiger Lillies.

Salute to America

On March 10th, the 18th annual Salute to America was held at Vet's Auditorium under the direction of Sam Kranovich, Larry Green, Steve McCombs and Jane Rynehart.

Pagent was a musical tribute to America with special recognition to Iowa. The pagent consisted of four scenes of flags and dance drill groups. Lisa Morgan played the part of Miss Iowa and Ann Burgraff played the part of Miss America.

A group of approximately 200 girls participated with great support from the jazz band. Pagent practices started at 7:00 every morning and lasted for two months.

Once again pagent was a great success, according to Mr. Kranovich.

Double-Casting: A Success in Spring Play

Guys and Dolls, based on a series of short stories by Damon Runyon, was a very suspenseful and exciting musical.

Director Jim Lamson chose the play because of the interesting music and the good dance possibilities. It also marked the first time that double-casting was used. This gave many students opportunities to participate in the play and made it more appealing to the audience.

Play preparation began early in January. Because double-casting was used, much extra work was put into the play. Play practice for the 70 cast members was long and strenuous, but well worth the extra time and effort.

Guys and Dolls was performed over four nights and approximately 2,000 people attended the play. Overall, Mr. Lamson said, "I was very pleased with the success of Guys and Dolls."

Tom Wright and Jennifer Randell show their talents as Sky Masterson and Sarah.

Melissa Pratt, Adelaide, sings her solo.

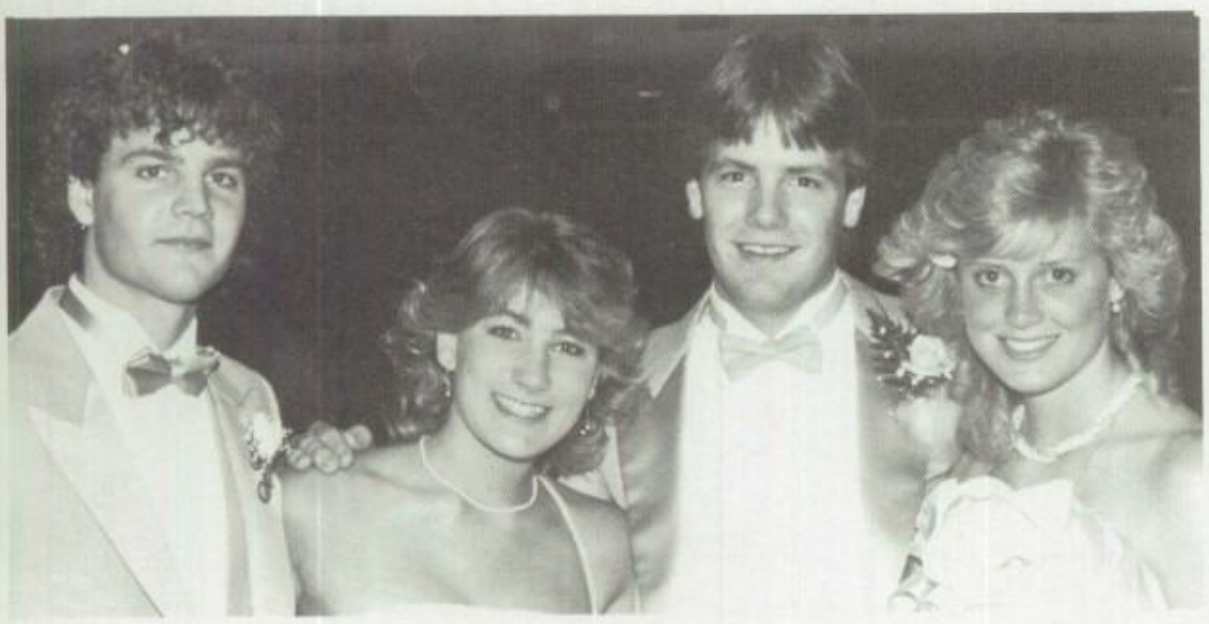
Bret Beeman, Nicely-Nicely Johnson, portrays his humorous character.

Phil Oggero caught in costume as Brannigan.

Jeni Dowell and Jennie Creighton get together for one more shot.

Russ Kivett wins a prize with his raffle ticket.

Pat Murphy and Cathy Gately work up a sweat dancing.



Kim Wilson, Deanne Miller, Ann Dillenburg and Cherie Archambeau laugh over a joke.

Mark Peterson, Stacy Sellers, Craig Plummer and Renae Buising wait for the next dance.

A Touch of Class

The annual Junior-Senior Prom was held on May 5th at the elegant Terrace Room in the Hotel Savery.

This year's theme chosen by the Junior Council was "Touch of Class." Entertainment for the evening was provided by "Flipside" which kept the students dancing till midnight.

The evening didn't end at the close of the dance. An all night party at the Walnut Creek Y.M.C.A. was put on by the Chemical People along with a group of Valley students and parents. No admission was charged and a free breakfast was served at 4:00 a.m. K.W.D.M. provided the music for the event which was highlighted by casino games and prizes for many lucky students.

Ann Burgraff and Ron Barry enjoy their evening together at prom.

Martha Vukovich gives a big smile.

Juniors show their enthusiasm for prom.

-Lori-
what can I say, you are a totally wild chick. You are also a total cutie & sweetie. Geometry was just a total blast with you I would never have made it to that class if I hadn't known you were going to be there. Nice pocket calculator. Remember to always stay sweet & call me sometime this summer so we can have some minor little parties, you know no more than a couple hundred people.

Love &
God Bless
